

Sisyphus

Translated by Jo-Anne Elder

---

Like Sisyphus, a woman bends over someone listening a being divining a new destiny that will give meaning to their tomorrow and he breathes into her through the mouth the air that will lull her to sleep like grass in the wisps of the wind